PREFATORY NOTE

THE concluding volume of the text of the Cambridge History of English Literature was published in 1916. The indexes of the separate volumes were the work of the late H. G. Aldis, Secretary of the University Library, and a plan for a general index, drawn up by him and revised by the General Editors, was approved by the Syndics of the Press in March 1918.

The plan of the work consisted, briefly, in the collation of the existing indexes of separate volumes together with the incorporation of entries relating to the bibliographies; the general index thus to contain references to all authors, whether mentioned in the text or not. It was also arranged to prefix a List of Contents of the History itself, and to this there has now been added an index of contributors.

The compilation was begun by Mr Aldis, who, at the time of his death in 1919, had completed an index of the bibliographies of the first eight volumes. The work was then suspended for some time; but at the beginning of 1922 the late A. R. Waller, Secretary to the Syndics and one of the General Editors of the History, undertook, with the assistance of Miss A. D. Greenwood, to complete the work. Once again death intervened. Mr Waller died in July 1922, and almost up to the last week of his life was busy with his index slips.

With the approval of the surviving General Editor (the late Sir A. W. Ward), the Syndics then entrusted the task of completion to Mr H. S. Bennett, of Emmanuel College. With the assistance of Mr H. A. Parsons, of the University Press, Mr Bennett has finally brought the work to an end, and the Syndics are indebted to him for undertaking a piece of work which has involved not only much tedious labour of his own, but also, to some extent, the recension of the work of his predecessors.

Sir A. W. Ward has not lived to see the publication of the General Index, but it is now given to the public in the hope that it may be found a valuable supplement to the work of which he and Mr Waller were the founders.
